

PET PORTRAITURE PHOTOGRAPHY

NW Art and Design wants to produce the most high quality and satisfying results for your pet portraiture session. The following information has been assembled, to help aid with your decision in choosing a photography service.

The Process

There is no minimum product purchase requirement. What will happen is that once you have decided to book a session, a financial deposit will be required in order to reserve your date. This cost will include the creative time and travel fees involved. A payment may be submitted via PayPal using any major credit/debit card.

Select images will be sorted, edited and retouched for optimum viewing. A minimum of 30 images to a maximum of 50 will be displayed for the client, and uploaded to an online photo site. The client will then review and choose which images they like, and their preferred format. Prints may be ordered in custom or standard sizes up to the maximum dimensions of 11 x 14 inches. Larger images may be sent out to a commercial photo lab upon request. Digital files can be provided for social media.

Quality Assurance

Materials and the technology used to create your products meet the highest quality standards. I use a wide format Epson photo inkjet printer, and archival quality pigment inks that will ensure a fade resistant, long lasting image. You may choose a matte, gloss or luster finish paper for your prints.

Questions?

Variables that would be helpful to discuss prior to a photoshoot:

- Is your pet shy around new people?
- Do you want to be included in the photo with your pet?
- Is there a favorite setting or location in the house where your pet will feel most comfortable?
